You're listening to the craft of supervision. My name is Dr. Mish and I'm a psychotherapist and supervisor. And I have a real passion and enthusiasm for all things clinical supervision. So I thought I'd bring my enthusiasm for the subject to this podcast. So I'll invite you to come on a bit of a journey with me to explore this wonderful world of supervision through looking at the different models, through the research, the debates and any issues that come up when we're practising supervision. I'm really glad to hear that I hope it will be useful to you. So let's go
